The Illinois Center for Specialized Professional Support (ICSPS) and Southern Illinois Professional Development Center (SIPDC) create, support, and deliver professional development. ICSPS for career and technical education professionals and SIPDC for adult education professionals across Illinois. ICSPS and SIPDC provide technical assistance, develop publications, and facilitate program improvement strategies for our partners as they relate to college transition, recruitment, retention, and completion—encouraging achievement of special populations learners.

We have been involved with ICAPS through collaborative professional development. Additionally, we provide support for the Transitions Academy program and community college bridge programs.
